“The Rock, his work is perfect,
for all his ways are justice.
A God of faithfulness and without iniquity, just and upright is he.” Deuteronomy 32:4

God is fully just. He will never act in a way that is spiteful or vengeful. Of course, we as humans do that all the time. But it is also true that God is all merciful. While He may justly condemn us, He will also forgive us through the Blood of His Son. That may sound paradoxical that God is both just and merciful but we should be grateful for the paradox of God's love that raises us up even when we sin and fall and turn against God. If we really could be more like God, would not the world be a far better place?
