But now that you have been set free from sin and have become slaves of God, the fruit you get leads to sanctification and its end, eternal life. Romans 6:22

The next verse in this passage tells us that wages of sin is death. But through the grace of God and the saving action of Jesus Christ, we are freed from sin. So if sin leads to death, grace must lead to life eternal. But once saved, we must follow that narrow path. It is not the same as being governed by the Law. Yes, we should be obeying the Laws of God. But it is not because of the laws but because of love that we do so. If we love God, we should be avoiding anything that causes a stain or a rupture of that relationship. It is out of love that we are saved and it is in love that we cling to the promise of eternal life.
