So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. John 8:36

There is a freedom in being a Christian. It is not the same as the “liberty” that many today think is their right. It has become...fashionable to do whatever one wants in the name of personal liberty. There is no accounting for the effects on other people...well, unless your liberty infringes on mine. But that is not what freedom is about. A free society, indeed a free world, interplays the needs of all and does not give preference to one group over another. The freedom of which Jesus is speaking is rooted in our release from the bondage of sin. But it is important to look at the bigger picture and understand that freedom means a just and equal society, not a free-for-all that descends into anarchy.
