

Deacon's Beacons

July 14, 2020

Against you, you only, have I sinned
and done what is evil in your sight,
so that you may be justified in your words and blameless in your judgment. Psalm 51:4

How can our sin justify God's words? We have all sinned; we all continue to sin. God is always willing to forgive us if we are truly sorry. We cannot do anything to earn that forgiveness. We must rely on the mercy of God and His grace. We depend on the Blood of Jesus poured out for our sins. God recognizes that we are human and that we will fall. But He does expect us to try to do better. And we can only do that through the grace of God.
