

Deacon's Beacons

August 19, 2020

For the LORD will not forsake his people;
he will not abandon his heritage;
for justice will return to the righteous, and all the upright in heart will follow it. Psalm 94:14–15

Sometimes it seems that the world is going...well, you know where in a hand basket. Does it seem that God has abandoned us? Does it seem that He does not care what is going on in the world? That could not be farther from the truth. But God has given us free will. It is up to us (collectively) whether we choose to follow His commandments or not. Each of us is responsible for making that decision for ourselves. If God in His wisdom does not force us to follow Him, why do we think we have the authority to force others? Yes, we are responsible for putting forth a good example. Hopefully, that will draw others to want to know God more. But we cannot force them. We can only pray that others will come to God and choose to follow His laws.

Go raibh síocháin Chríost a bheith in éineacht leat.

Deacon Mike