Evening and morning and at noon

I utter my complaint and moan, and he hears my voice. Psalm 55:17

God does listen when we complain. Sometimes we do not think so. We assume that, if something does not happen immediately, God is not listening to us. But God is not a genie. He is not here to grant our wishes. God is here to care for us and He knows better than we how to do that. But while we are on the subject of God hearing us, why should He only be listening when we complain. More maybe better still, why should we only talk to God to complain? Why do we not talk to God to thank Him for the blessings that we receive? It seems the height of ingratitude to always be asking God for help without thanking Him for what He has done for us.
