

Deacon's Beacons

January 5, 2022

Do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewal of your mind, that by testing you may discern what is the will of God, what is good and acceptable and perfect. Romans 12:2

Discernment is one of the most important and yet one of the most difficult of spiritual practices. We have to strive to see what the will of God is for each one of us. But how do we know that we have accurately discerned that will? Is it our own preference that we want to recognize as God's will? This is not an easy question to answer or resolve. What seems to work best is to set a path and see whether obstacles get in the way. That can be an indication that you are not on the right course. If God wants you somewhere, He will provide the path to get you there.
