The LORD is my shepherd; I shall not want. Psalm 23:1

This is arguably the most famous line in all of Scripture. Entire books have been written on this Psalm. So it is difficult to sum it up in a few short lines. The image of a shepherd is what is important. A shepherd was entirely responsible for the care and protection of his flock. The flock depended on the shepherd for everything. The point that I think the Psalmist is making is that our relationship with God has to be the same way. We are the flock and we rely on God for everything. If we do not, we open ourselves to the wolves of the world.
